Core Data Report

The Core Data report is due to the Department by June 30, 2003. Please check with the person in your district who enters and completes Core Data to determine the date he/she needs your information. Screen 7 is just one of the many screens due in June. A sample of the Core Data Screen 7 is available on the web. Please remember, there is just one page (screen) of Library Media Center information to complete.

CISE Library Resources

Submitted by Ivy Hui, Library Coordinator

Are teachers in your building looking for professional development resources on instructional strategies to use in their classrooms? If so, you and your teachers are invited to visit the online catalog of the Center for Innovations in Education (CISE) free lending library at <http://www.coe.missouri.edu/~mocise/library> . The CISE collection contains more than 3,000 professional development resources on instructional strategies and topics such as accommodations, positive behavior support, Individualized Education Programs, reading/writing, collaborative teaching models, transition, differentiated instruction, English language learning, cultural diversity, and more in both print and non-print formats.

New materials are featured monthly on our web site, under “New Arrivals to the CISE Library”. Order materials directly from our web or call one of our staff at 1-800-976-2473 to assist you in locating materials to meet your needs. Your only cost is the return postage. Visit us today! We look forward to serving you.

I hope everyone has a few minutes during the summer to re-charge your batteries. I know many of you will be working in summer school, taking classes, or working a second job, but I wish you all a little rest and lots of time with family.
